CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW, AN EXPERIENCED NURSE AND FEMALE PHYSICIAN, presents to the attention of mothers her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

FOR CHILDREN TEETHING,

which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflamation, will allay pain and spasmodic action, and is sure to regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to you Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—never has it failed, in a single instance, to effect a cure, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak of this matter "what we do know," after ten years' experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skillful nurses in New England, and has been used with never-failing success in thousands of cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from teething or from any other cause.—We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be sure—yes, absolutely sure—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world, and by G. W. Kessler and A. Roush, druggists, Altoona. Price 25 cents per bottle.

BROTHER JONATHAN'S LAMENT FOR SISTER CAROLINE.

She has gone,—she has left us in passion and pride,—
Our stormy browed sister, so long at our side!
She has torn her own star from our firmament's glow,
And turned on her brother the face of a foe!

O Caroline, Caroline, child of the sun,
We can never forget that our hearts have been one,—
Our foreheads both sprinkled in Liberty's name,
From the fountain of blood with the finger of flame!

You were always too ready to fire at a touch;
But we said, "She is hasty,—she does not mean much."
We have scowled, when you uttered some turbulent threat:
But Friendship still whispered, "Forgive and forget!"

Has our love all died out? Has its altars grown cold?
Has the curse came at last which the fathers foretold?
Then nature must teach us the strength of the chain
That her petulant children would sever in vain.

They may fight till the buzzards are gorged with their spoil,
Till the harvest grows black as it rots in the soil,
Till the wolves and the catamounts droop from their caves,
And the shark tracks the pirate the lord of the waves.

In vain is the strife! When its fury is past,
Their fortunes must flow in one channel at last,
As the torrents that rush from the mountains of snow
Roll mingled in peace through the valleys below.

Our Union is river, lake, ocean and sky:
Man breaks not the medal, when God cuts the die!
Though darkened with sulphur, though cloven with steel,
The blue arch will brighten, the waters will heal!

O Caroline, Caroline, child of the sun,
There are battles with Fate that can never be won!
The star-flowering banner must never be furled,
For its blossoms of light are the hope of the world!

Go, then, our rash sister! afar and aloof—
Run wild in the sunshine away from our roof;
But when your heart aches and your feet have grown sore,
Remember the pathway that leads to our door!

OUR ARMY CORRESPONDENCE.

CAMP SCOTT,
York, Pa., May 12, 1861.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I take occason, today, after an interval of one week, to address you a few lines by way of "posting" you and the readers of the Tribune in regard to affairs at Camp Scott.

In my former letters I believe I informed you that we were all enjoying very good health, especially the members of our company. Indeed, when we take into consideration the exposure to inclement weather that we have been subject to since our entrance into the army, and also that a large number of us have heretofore been strangers to such exposure, the wonder is all the greater that we escape so well.—But, by way of explanation as to this extraordinary good health, I would remind you that cheerfulness and lightness of heart are great promoters of good health, and not one company in the camp enjoy this blessing to a greater extent than the "Rifles," commanded by Captain Lloyd. Not a man of us, I believe, has yet been under the advice of the physician; altho' some of us arise from our downy beds of straw, at the call of the reveille, complaining somewhat of pains in the head (?)

Our company continue to exercise the drill every day, and since our arrival here I can perceive a great improvement in our different manœuvres on the field.—Had we the privileges and experience of older companies I believe we could compete with any in the army. A great many of us—(I speak knowingly)—have become unconcerned in regard to excelling in the drill, from the fact that we conceive ourselves scurvily treated in being compelled to use "those horrid muskets." I, for one, would not have joined the company had I suspected anything of this kind, and a large number are of the same opinjon; the cause, however, is beyond the control of our captain, whom we believe to have done everything in his power for us.

Yesterda, (Saturday,) we received the last of our clothing, and now patiently await our accoutrements, in order that we may be enabled to enter more fully into active service, and do justice to the demands of our country. Our dress consists of jean pants, blue blouse, (fitting like a coat on a yard-stick,) a blue cap, two pair of drawers, two undershirts, two pair of woolen stockings, and two pair of the roughest-made coarse shoes you ever saw. These articles were all dealt out to us irrespective of size or fit, and it became us to suit ourselves afterward as best we could. I received a pair of shoes large enough for the largest man in Blair county, with plenty of room to spare for corns, and a number 4 sets free and easy on my foot. Not a man in the camp could wear them! I went to town in hope of exchanging them for a smaller pair, but found the stores overstocked with Uncle Sams's ware, so I sold them for enough to pay for half-soling my own. Another member of our company, Harry B——, has been busily employed changing the pants and coats to fit the wearers. We present rather a fine appearance in our new dress, especially when on drill, and when we get our cartridge-boxes, knapsacks, belts, etc., we shall no doubt look quite warlike.

I have heretofore despaired of our proficiency in the use of the clumsy musket, but indeed we are all doing finely under the instruction of Lieut. S. Potts. This officer superintends all our drills, in company with the captain, and seems to take pleasure in learning us all he can;—pleasure or not on his part, he certainly takes great pains to instruct us. This gentleman is certainly winning many friends in the camp, by his kindness and sociability to the members not only of the "Rifles," but those of the camp. When on drill he sustains the dignity and firmness of the commanding officer, and on fatigue he is a fellow soldier and a gentleman. Some of us have hoped that his merits might be suitably rewarded; indeed some have hinted at captaincy in case our captain should receive a higher appointment.—There is one thing certain—he is a great favorite with the company. I hope the gentleman will pardon this candid expression of an honest opinion.

To-day the "Rifles" went to town en masse, for the first time since our arrival in this place. We marched down to the creek, ground our arms, and soon plunged into the placid waters of the Codorus.—After exercising ourselves in the most health-inspiring art of swimming and bathing, the company re-formed and went through the drill more successfully than ever. Yesterday we made our first appearance on dress parade, and also to receive Gov. Curtin. Notwithstanding this was our "first appearance in public," and in presence of the highest functionary of the State, it was remarked by outsiders whose lot has been cast with the army, that "the 'Rifles' were coming out."

There is some little excitement among the soldiers in regard to the late proclamation of the President, calling out troops for three and five years. Some here are of the opinion that all the three months volunteers will be called on to serve for that period. The subject has been pretty well canvassed by the men of the camp, and the universal opinion expressed is, that they will first serve their three months' enlistment, and, at the expiration of that time, should their country need their services, they will not be found lacking in courage or willingness.

The men here are kept pretty close within the camp, and many are the schemes resorted to by some of them to pass the guard. In consequence of many of the men not having received their uniforms, they present the appearance of citizens to those who do not know them. They step up to a strange guard and pass for a citizen; and not unfrequently they return intoxicated. This plan is destined to be destroyed as soon as the troops all become uniformed. Another is, they get a bucket and pass out to the camp, and when out the bucket is left at a house or sent in by a soldier, and thus the guard is deceived.

We have been nearly drowned out of camp during the last week or two. The rain has been almost incessant, depriving us not only of the necessary drills, but causing us great inconvenience in the way of cooking and sleeping. Some of the companies were compelled to take up quarters in town. In some of the messes the water was three and four inches deep.

We have got all the men in camp now, making about six or seven thousand active soldiers. There is a small battery of flying artillery here, commanded by Capt. Campbell. They are nearly all new men, but appear to be pretty well drilled. They do not exercise with their arms as much as the infantry, owing, I suppose, to the fact that they require the whole camp for drill.

"We are all lying here in anxious expectation of being ordered off, and many are the reports relative to our destination and time of departure. I have been told several times that we would leave in the course of two or three days; and also that we would be sent to Baltimore, and by others that we go to Norfolk. I have ceased to place any reliance in any report I hear.

While I write, the rain is pouring down, and our boys are enjoying themselves hugely in consequence, no doubt from the fact that we are prevented from drilling. Some are singing, others dancing, some writing, some debating, (most miserably at that,) on the prospect of the war, and others again are indulging in a weak quarrel. The men in the camp frequently amuse themselves with foot-ball when the weather and drills will permit. Indeed the amusements and occupations of the men when off drill, are most varied—everything of a boisterous or riotous character being prevented.

Every day, almost, some of the men receive boxes of luxuries, such as cakes, pies, butter, etc; such articles being deemed too good for soldiers by Uncle Sam. They also receive letters from their friends, which, you may depend, are relished as highly as the contents of their boxes.—Your humble servant is deprived of both these luxuries, for the reason that strangers only are aware of his whereabouts.

I will endeavor to inform you of our next place of destination, at the earliest opportunity; however, I think that fact will not be known in sufficient time to inform you before we march. Should we leave here before your next issue, I shall write you as early as possible on our arrival at the next place of destination.

Please accept my heartiest wishes for your prosperity, and believe me

Yours very respectfully,
W. I. B.

CAMP SCOTT,
York, Pa., May 13, 1861.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—At the earnest solicitation of a number of our company, I take (or rather ask) the privilege of correcting some statements made in last week's Tribune, by a correspondent signing himself J. A. B., Company B., 3d Regiment.

In the first place, he states that "there are some 9,000 troops stationed here."—The gentleman is certainly laboring under a great mistake; the greatest number of troops that have been in Camp Scott since its organization, amounts to 4,700 all told.

In the second place, he states that "there has been, and still are, a great many of our troops sick, and some have died." It is universally remarked among the surgeons, that the number of sick is exceedingly small, considering the inclement weather, the disadvantages in cooking, and camp life in general.

Thirdly, "there has been a number of frays." Of course that is to be expected, but from good authority we have it, that we have as good if not the best regulated camp in the State.

We are anxious that the people at home should at all times know what is going on in camp, but we do not want plain facts so largely misrepresented. We came to defend the flag of our country, and in the darkest hour no heart shall tremble, no footsteps shall falter, but with our trust in the God of nations, we march to rescue the emblems of our liberty from the grasp of traitors. All feel as firmly devoted as ever to the good cause; the tide still swells, and millions of true Americans are waiting for their country's call, willing to redden the Potomac with their blood, rather than see Ashland, the home of Henry Clay, Mount Vernon, the home of Washington, or Monticello, the resting-place of Jefferson, lie in an enemy's country; yes, rather than see the rebels take our national capital by storm, we will bathe the rolling hills in crimson with our blood.

The Doylestown Guards, Capt. W. H. H. Davis, leave to-morrow morning for Washington, via. Philadelphia and Perryville. They take charge of the battery belonging to Ringgold's Light Artillery. Yesterday we were visited by Gov. Curtin, Hon. L. W. Hall, (Speaker of the Senate,) and Gen. Wm. H. Keim. The troops were all out for inspection—the first time they have all been out at once since we came here; they made a brilliant display.

We have received various delicacies from the patriotic citizens of Altoona, for which we return our hearty thanks. Hoping that an All-wise Providence may guide our ship of state safely through the stormy billows of the present, I remain

Very respectfully yours,
G. W. Z. B.

Select Miscellany.

"JES ONE BITE."—While walking down State street recently, "the subscriber" came up with two negro boys, aged respectively ten and fifteen years. The younger one carried an apple in his hand, and the elder one was using all his eloquence to obtain "jes one bite" of it.

"Well," said the younger one, firmly, "I'll give you jes one bite, but don't take no more'n jes one bite."

The larger boy took the apple, opened a mouth that would have been creditable to a hundred-and-fifty-pound catfish, and brought it down on the fruit, leaving a very small share on the other side.

"Jim!" said the little one, looking up at the operation with astonishment, "you take the apple, and give me the bite!"

A NOBLE MOTHER.—A lady residing in Portsmouth, N. H., a few days since received a letter from her only son, now in Massachusetts, requesting her permission to enlist in the defence of the Government. When asked what her answer to him was, she replied—"My country first, my children afterward."

ARMY BEVERAGES.—It has been discovered by experience, that soldiers on field and camp duty require some cheering beverage, and since it has been ascertained that alcoholic beverages are injurious, the question arises, "What can be substituted for them?" We have very useful and practical information on this head, from Col. Dawes, an experienced Indian officer. He recommends that coffee and tea should take the place of liquors, and says, "care should be taken to have good coffee and tea provided regularly in each troop and company, and every man should have some offered to him the first thing in the morning before doing duty, and also some in the evening. When properly managed, this practice is alike beneficial to health and morals." A very distinguished surgeon in the Indian army states that from long experience in tropical climates, with soldiers in barracks and in the field, he observed that "a cup of warm coffee taken in the morning tended to prevent sickness."

During the Crimean war, it was found that when the soldiers obtained warm coffee they sustained fatigue and were comparatively healthy; but when they were in the trenches, and could not get warm tea or coffee, they were subject to dysentery.

POLITICALLY DEAD.—McG., an Alabama Marshall, arrived at Cleveland about two years ago, in search of a fugitive from justice. He put up at the Wendell House, and, during his stay there, had a difficulty with a person who roomed with him, one evening, on which McG. shot three times at his antagonist, slightly wounding him the third time. He was immediately arrested and put in jail. In the morning, the following scene took place in the prison:

A friend of the Marshal entered his cell and found him seated, his head resting on his hands, and looking like one who had entirely given up in despair.

"Come Mac," said the friend, "cheer up; the man is not hurt."

"Ruined, ruined, ruined!" groaned the Marshal, without even changing his position.

"Ruined! bah!" returned his friend; "don't be a child. I tell you the wound is but slight; besides, it is an aggravated case, and had you killed him you would not have been ruined!"

"I know it," said the Marshal, suddenly starting up; "but three times!—only think of it!—to shoot three times at a man, and not kill him! I am politically damned in Alabama!"

FERTILE IN RESOURCES.—When the New York and Massachusetts troops first took possession of the depot at Annapolis, they found that the steam engine which plies between that city and the junction with the Baltimore and Washington railroad had been taken to pieces. A number of them accordingly set to work, under the direction of a comrade, (who recognized the locomotive as in part his own work,) and soon put it in running order. The railroad from Annapolis to the Junction having been greatly injured in order to obstruct the passage of the volunteers, these same Massachusetts troops immediately set about relaying the track, and in less than a day restored it in good condition. Three companies from the same Massachusetts regiment, consisting of sailors from Marblehead, were left behind at Annapolis, in order to man the United States ship Constitution. We doubt whether any other single regiment in the country could furnish such a ready contingent to re-construct a steam engine, lay a railroad track, and bend the sails of a man-of-war. It will be remembered also that these Massachusetts troops restored to their masters in Maryland some slaves who had fled to them for protection.

A "SITIVATION."—A correspondent of a Nashville paper tells a story which may possibly be untrue, about a person who was going to Chattanooga on the railroad. When the train entered the tunnel, and there was total darkness, said person asked a stranger how long it would be in going through. Stranger was a bit of a wag, and replied "two hours." Person thought he would avail himself of the opportunity to don a clean shirt, and about the time he had "shucked" himself, the train dashed out into daylight, exposing his person to about a hundred pair of male and female eyes belonging to the passengers. He had on no linen, and about as much other clothes as the Apollo Belvidere—and no chance to run!

☞ A gentleman had an Irish servant who lived with him many years. One day he informed Pat that a friend of his was dead. "You don't say," queried Pat, "have you had a letter from him?"

☞ There is a firm in Elgin, Illinois, known as Gray & Lunt." Half their letters come to them directed to "Lay & Grunt." Natural, but not complimentary.

WANTED.

A boy who has some knowledge of the printing business—who has worked six months or a year at the trade—will be offered a good opportunity to complete his trade, by applying immediately at this office.

HON. L. W. HALL.—During the extra session of the Legislature, the presiding officer of the Senate, Hon. L. W. Hall, has acquitted himself in a very creditable manner, and shown himself in every way worthy of the distinguished honor conferred upon him by his Senatorial brethren at the close of the last session. We take pleasure in copying the following deserved tribute to his merits, as Speaker, from the Harrisburg Telegraph:

We cannot permit the adjournment to pass without noticing the good opinions which were expressed for the Speaker of the Senate, Hon. Louis W. Hall. During the short time he has presided, he made for himself a reputation of which older Parliamentarians might well be proud and which will go far to re-instate him in the chair at the next session of the Senate.

The correspondent of the Philadelphia Press also pays Mr. H. the following compliment:

Mr. Welsh (Mr. Finney being in the Chair) offered a resolution tendering the thanks of the Chamber to Louis W. Hall for the able and impartial manner in which he had discharged the duties of Speaker of the Senate.

The resolution was adopted unanimously.

Mr Hall is the youngest man who has ever filled the Speakership of the Senate, and his readiness and impartiality as a presiding officer have won for him the respect and regards of all his fellow-men.

The Harrisburg Patriot and Union, of the 17th inst., contains the following:

HON. LOUIS W. HALL.—We cannot let the occasion pass of paying to the gentleman whose name heads this article the compliment of our approbation, for the able, courteous and businesslike manner in which he has discharged the responsible duties of his office, as Speaker of the Senate, during the short extra session just closed.

Mr. Hall is perhaps the youngest man who ever presided over the deliberations of the Senate of Pennsylvania, and it is no small praise to say of him, that he discharged the arduous duties of the place with a dignity, impartiality and dispatch that would do credit to any man in the Commonwealth.

☞ We care not to indulge in speculations as to what is to be the first act in the great drama for which both sections of the country are now preparing. The intentions of those who have control of the Federal troops are wisely kept secret.—Their publication, before the plans are fully matured, would do no good, but might be productive of much harm. Our soldiers are all anxious to perform the work for which they tendered their services, and some are inclined to find fault with the head of the army for not pushing them forward more rapidly. They, and all others who are for hurrying on the conflict, should remember that Gen. Scott, the venerable chieftain who has charge of the campaign, has had much experience in his line, is noted for his sagacity, and alone moves when all things are ready and success is sure. We have confidence in his movements as he does nothing rashly.—When or where the first engagement will take place, we have no idea. At one time Harper's Ferry appears to be the point, at another time Cairo, and at another time Norfolk. Undoubtedly it must come soon.

☞ We have been pained and mortified beyond measure, on reading accounts of the manner in which some of the soldiers of this State have been treated, with respect to uniforms and camp equippage. If all that is told be true, and we shall soon know whether it is or not, some grand swindling has been done under the guise of patriotism. We will not now comment on this subject, but when the whole truth is known and the guilty parties discovered, we shall do them justice, be they high dignitaries or private individuals. This is no time to speculate off the State to the jeopardy of the lives of those who have enlisted in their country's cause.

☞ "Ben Bolt" is informed that his letters will always be acceptable.

☞ We publish this week a number of letters from Camp Scott, all of which are more or less interesting. Our correspondents will excuse us for abridging their letters somewhat, at points wherein they detail the same circumstances. We shall be pleased to hear from all of them whenever they can make it convenient to drop us a line.

☞ Just previous to the adjournment of the Penn'a Legislature, on Thursday last, the Clerk read over a roll of 73 names of members of the Legislature, who had formed themselves into a company, styled the Legislative Guards, and offered their services to the Governor. The Speaker of the House is Captain of the Company.

Who may be Called upon to Serve in the Militia.

Many persons who believe "discretion to be the better part of valor," and are apprehensive that a draft might possibly be resorted to to fill the United States Army, have consulted us as to their liability to be called on to serve, contrary to their inclinations. The militia laws of the United States and of this State are very precise in their requirements, and draw an accurate distinction between those liable to militia service and those who are exempted.

The army of the United States is composed of persons who enlist voluntarily, who are termed "regulars," and corps of State militia, who "volunteer." Both wings are recruited voluntarily, and not by compulsion.

The militia of the United States, as defined by the United States law, is composed of "every free, able-bodied white male citizen of the respective States, resident therein, who is or shall be of the age of eighteen years, and under the age of forty-five years," excepting those styled "exempts." The exempts are: the Vice President, and judicial and executive officers of the United States Government; the members and officers of both Houses of Congress; Custom-House officers and clerks; postmasters and officers, persons employed in the care and conveyance of the mails; inspectors of exports; pilots; all mariners and seamen actually employed in sea service, and all other persons exempted by the laws of the several States.

Besides the above, the Pennsylvania State militia law exempts from service all persons in the United States army or navy; ministers and preachers of the gospel; professors of colleges; school teachers; judges of the courts; persons who may have been heretofore regularly and honorably discharged from the United States army or navy; and commissioned officers of the militia of any State, who shall have served as such for five consecutive years, and who shall have honorably resigned, or been discharged from the service.

Until a "draft" is resorted to, these laws are practically inoperative. When the militia are drafted they are drafted for three months only, so that no one can be compelled to serve any longer. Persons while performing militia duty may enlist in the service of the United States, but no compulsion can be used; and when they have enlisted they become part of the regular forces. "Mustering in," as it is commonly called, does not mean enlisting into the army; it is simply a technical term used to designate a three-months' service.

When a "draft" of the militia is made, according to the laws of Pennsylvania, a written or printed notice is to be served on every person so drafted, at his residence, as follows:

——, Take notice that you are hereby required, personally, or by a sufficient substitute, to appear, properly armed and equipped for service, at ——, on the —— day of ——, to march when required.

Given under my hand, &c.

—— Captain or commanding officer.

A "substitute" is a person not drafted, who may be approved by the commanding officer; and if the substitute should afterwards be drafted, his employer must march or find a second substitute.

Persons who neglect to serve, and provide no substitute, are punished according to penalties provided by act of Congress. These penalties are provided in the special act of Congress, making the draft. As to privates, there is no penalty, and there will not be any until Congress, at its next session, passes a law providing for the case. Commissioned officers, neglecting or refusing to serve, forfeit a sum not exceeding one year's pay, and not less than one month's pay, to be adjudged by a court-martial, according to the aggravation of the offence, and may be cashiered for a term not exceeding one year. When called out by the Governor of the State, commissioned officers neglecting or refusing their duty, pay a fine of thirty dollars, and non-commissioned officers and privates sixteen dollars for each month's delinquency. No one is in danger of being called upon until a draft is ordered, and even then the odds are against any unwilling person being forced to serve.

FORMATION OF CANTONMENTS.—The War Department contemplates to establish shortly two large cantonments, one at Gettysburg, Pa., and another in the neighborhood of New York—probably at Staten Island. The object of these camps is to prepare two efficient corps d'armee, with which certain important operations can be promptly carried out. The force that will be collected in these camps is not yet settled upon, but will vary from fifteen thousand to twenty thousand men. They will be worked up by the best officers to the highest efficiency, and kept in constant readiness for active service.—The force at Gettysburg will no doubt be employed at the right moment for an inland movement that it may not be proper at this time to disclose; whilst that at Staten Island is meant to be directed against various points of the seaboard bounding the rebel States.

SOUTHERN STATES.—The forts South of Mason and Dixon's line, now in possession of the Confederate States, are seventeen in number, costing the United States more than $6,000,000, which, when fully manned and armed, hold 5,820 men and 1,310 guns. Those still held by the United States at the south number fourteen, costing about the same amount, and of similar capacity. In addition to these there are forts incomplete at Ship Island, Miss.; Georgetown, S. C.; Port Royal Roads, S. C.; Tybee Island, Savanna, Ga.; and Galveston, Texas. Hampton Roads, Va., is the great naval station and rendezvous on the Southern coast. Pensacola has the only good harbor for naval vessels and a naval depot on the Gulf. The forts at Key West and Tortugas are among the most powerful in the world. Every vessel going into the Gulf passes in sight of each.

A PATRIOTIC RESOLVE.—Mr. Jefferson Davis has already suffered on several occasions by the untimely revelation of his plans. When his Secretary of War announced that Washington City would be in the hands of rebels before the 1st of May, he committed an imprudence for which he has since been censured. And we doubt not that a more recent declaration of an eminent Georgian will be pronounced in like manner "unauthorized." This Georgian writes that "if we fail, many persons propose to desolate the country, and retreat; and if that will not do, to offer the country to England as a colony."

WAR NEWS.

WASHINGTON, May 19, 1861.—The Transportation of immense bodies of troops to Fortress Monroe is to take place with the least possible delay. Major General Butler will forthwith repair thither, where he will establish his headquarters as the commandant of the new military Department of Virginia, North Carolina, and Tennessee. These facts are significant of future events.

A private letter, dated on Friday on board the U. S. frigate Minnesota, in Hampton Roads, says: We arrived from Boston on the 13th, and have commenced our assaults on the enemy.—We have seized about $300,000 worth of ships and tobacco. We are anticipating an attempt on the part of the enemy to fortify Shewell's Point, and if they do, we shall attack them.

George Copway is in Washington, and has tendered to the President a company of the Indians of Michigan. He has made a selection of one hundred tall, fleet Indians, whom he proposes to use as scouts and runners for the army, and to occupy the advanced posts from Cairo to Eastern Virginia. They are not to be armed, except so far as is necessary for self-defence, but from their fleetness and knowledge of forest life, are to be employed as messengers and auxiliaries to the army on the outposts. He says they all understand the position of the Government. He comes strongly backed by the members of the extra session of the Legislature of Michigan. The State of Michigan will equip them. Their acceptance is under consideration.

WASHINGTON, May 20th, 1861.—Our suburbs are infested with spies and parties making surveys. They are occasionally "spotted" and secured by our troops, and at the present time they have a number of them on hand to be disposed of "as the law directs." On Saturday the notorious Tom Ryan, of Sing Sing fame, was arrested two miles from Georgetown, by a squad from Colonel Corcoran's regiment. In reply to questions, Tom informed them that he was merely out looking for rabbits. He is in the guard house of the regiment, heavily ironed, awaiting orders from headquarters.

WASHINGTON, May, 20th,—The chain bridge, near Georgetown, is guarded on the Washington side by our troops, while the other side of the bridge is guarded by the Confederate forces.—The guard on our side—a company recently from Texas—have to exercise some effort to restrain themselves from giving the fellows over the way some specimens of modern target practice.

WASHINGTON, May, 21st,—It is reported that a squad went down to Alexandria, yesterday, from the Zouave Regiment (encamped on the banks of the river,) and took down a Secession flag that had been flying in Alexandria. Two of them were arrested, and are confined in that city, awaiting orders from the Confederate authorities.

CHAMBERSBURG, May 18.—Heavy reinforcements are expected here in a few days—all to march southward. Excellent order and discipline prevail in Camp Slifer, under General Williams.

A deserter from the Virginia forces arrived here, and reported himself at headquarters.—He is a shoemaker by trade, and was enlisted forcibly at Culpepper Court-House, in Virginia, and was marched to Harper's Ferry. He states that the captain of the company issued a general order, requesting the troops to husband their ammunition especially. The captain said afterwards, verbally, that no waste should be made of percussion caps, as there were not more than sufficient caps to fire five rounds.

He was cross-examined on the facts by an experienced lawyer, holding high rank, but did not vary the slightest in his statements. He was at Harper's Ferry for three weeks, and escaped on Wednesday morning. He confirms the report that there are only five brass field-pieces, and the troops are short of provisions. At least two thousand men were not armed at all out of the seven thousand. Col. Jackson is now in command.

CHAMBERSBURG, May 19.—Judge Mason, ex-collector of Baltimore, was released to-day, and sent over the Maryland line. He is known to entertain Secession sympathies, but his character is too high to induce a belief that he would condescend to play the spy. There was no authority from the Secretary of War to retain him, and his discharge is approved by the most judicious residents.

The deserter who arrived here yesterday is named Stanley, and was originally from Ohio. He says there were but twelve pieces of cannon at Harper's Ferry on Thursday night.

The Confederate troops on Friday visited a Maryland farmer, three miles below the Ferry, and killed seven hogs and drove off three head of cattle in broad daylight. They have committed similar depredations in Maryland for ten miles above the Ferry, and these visits are occurring daily.

Unionists, driven out of Virginia, are arriving here daily, and sorrowful stories are related by many.

The troops in camp here are not yet fully equipped. They need knapsacks, which will be furnished soon. They expect to receive marching orders southward every day. They will certainly occupy Hagerstown in a few days.

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., May 21st.—A detachment of 700 Virginia troops have arrived opposite Williamsport, on the Potomac river, only twenty-six miles south of this point.

It is believed here that they intend to make an incursion into the southern borders of this State. Affairs grow interesting here.

Gen. Williams left here to-day for Harrisburg on special business. His object is believed to be to obtain the presence here of two batteries of artillery and a batallion of cavalry, rendered necessary by the forward movement of the Virginia troops.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Advices from Key West state that Captain Craven, of the U. S. steamer Crusader, had seized the steamer Suwannee.—He was also about arming the celebrated yact Wanderer, which will be sent into the Gulf as a cruiser, under the command of a lieutenant of the U. S. Navy.

The city of Key West remains loyal to the Union. All the seditious persons found are to be removed from the island. Major French had appointed a magistrate, who had superseded the mayor, justices, and other local officers.

It is reported that the schooner W. C. Atwater had been seized by the rebels at Cedar Keys, and sent to Apalachicola, where Captain Allen was hung by a mob. This report needs confirmation.

NEW YORK, May 20.—The steamer De Soto, from Havana, reports passing the United States steam frigate Niagara and gun-boat Huntsville on the 17th. They were cruising in the Gulf for privateers. They had captured two vessels and sent them North, in charge of prize crews.

NEW ORLEANS, May 20.—A passenger arrived from Texas states that Gen. Young, in pursuing Capt. Montgomery and the Federal troops, overtook the baggage, supply, and ammunition trains, which were seized, with some beeves and horses. Capt. Montgomery had evacuated Fort Ouchita, and was on his way to Fort Arbuckle. Gen. Young had determined to take possession of Forts Cobb and Arbuckle.

ST. LOUIS, May 17.—Two pieces of cannon, several hundred muskets and rifles, a number of pistols, and a supply of ammunition, were taken from the custody of the Police Commissioners to-day, by order of the United States authorities; also, sixty Colt's navy revolvers, while in charge of the American Express Company.

OUR ARMY CORRESPONDENCE.

CAMP SCOTT, York, Pa.,
May 12th, 1861.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Since my last letter to you there has been nothing of particular interest transpiring here, other than usual in camp life. No doubt there have been stories circulated in Altoona that we are in a starving condition; but this is incorrect. We have lived on the "top of the pile," as can be testified by many of your citizens who have visited us. The members of Company E have a healthy appearance, and many of them are in much better health than when at home.

The camp was a scene of commotion on the evening of the 1st inst., on the arrival of four pieces of cannon, and the expression was general that we could now pass through Baltimore.

On the morning of the 3d inst. we beheld with sad hearts a bier upon which was placed the last remains of a comrade. He belonged to the 2d Regiment, and had died from chills.

On the 7th we were very agreeably surprised at the appearance of a box of edibles, &c., donated by the ladies of Altoona and vicinity, of which all partook heartily, with many thanks to the donors. It would perhaps interest some of your lady readers, were they to see us cook our meals. In the first place, the rations are equally distributed among each mess, by Quarter-Master Fry, so that each man may get the amount allowed him, after which each mess either appoints a cook from among themselves, or they do it individually.

On the 16th our uniforms appeared and were distributed, each man receiving one. We were much gratified on receiving them, as previous to this we were compelled to wear our citizens' dress, and carry our cartridges in our pockets.

There has been several presentations to the officers of our company, since our arrival at Camp Scott. Among the recipients of presents was Lieut. Richard Crozier who received from his old chums, (the painters on the P. R. R.) a beautiful silver-mounted revolver. The presentation was made through their foreman, J. W. Webber. He also received from his old friends, residing in Philadelphia, a beautiful sword, as a token of their regard for him. Upon the hilt is inscribed the following words—"Presented to 1st Lieut. Crozier, Company E, 3d Regiment P. V." The sword was presented, by letter, by the Rev. J. Crow, of Kensington, Philadelphia; and I have only to add that the above mentioned articles will be right vigorously used by the recipient, if occasion offers, in maintaining the Constitution and the Union.

On the morning of the 8th inst. we had the pleasure of shaking hands with our much esteemed friend, C. R. Hoffman, who soon gave us to understand that part of his mission was to present Captain Schink with a handsome revolver, gotten up through the instrumentality of the foremen of the Altoona shops. It afforded the Captain much pleasure to find that his acquaintances and companions had not forgotten him.

Yours truly, J. H. R.

CAMP SCOTT, York, Pa.,

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In behalf of the Logan Rifles, (now known as Company E, 3d Regiment,) it would be but just to acknowledge that on the 7th inst we were the highly favored recipients of a box well filled with the good things of this life, such as pies, cakes, jellies, preserves, &c., and the materials for serving them up, such as knives, forks, plates, &c., and after these came napkins, soap and other articles for cleansing the dishes and our persons.—These gifts were from the "Patriot Daughters" of Altoona and vicinity, who have proved themselves true friends of the soldiers. We are indeed happy to know that the same spirit which actuated the daughters of 1776 to deeds of benevolence, still lives and burns afresh in the hearts of the patriotic daughters of Altoona and vicinity. Ladies, you have our warmest thanks, and you shall ever be remembered by all who have shared your kind regards.

Respectfully yours,
J. SZINK,
Capt. Company E, 3d Reg.

☞ Through the kindness of Dr. W. R. Findley, we are permitted to copy the following extracts from a letter recently received by him from his son, Joseph R. Findley, who is a member of the National Guard, of Philadelphia:

CAMP NEAR BALTIMORE,
May 17th, 1861.

DEAR FATHER:—I haste to inform you of my present position and its comforts. You will find the details of our departure from Philadelphia vividly portrayed in the Press and Inquirer, and no doubt have read it ere this. We are now located on Locust Point, within the limits of the city of Baltimore, and directly under the guns of Fort McHenry—being about one-fourth of a mile from it. There are now five regiments posted around the city, consisting of the 6th Massachusetts, 8th New York, National Guard, Philadelphia Light Guard, and the 1st Regiment, commanded by Col. Lewis. We had a magnificent ride down the Chesapeake and up the Patapsco to Baltimore. We left Perryville just as it was breaking day, and landed at 1 o'clock P. M. We then had to march about four miles, and it was about as hard a walk as ever I undertook. My knapsack weighs about 30 lbs., which I have to carry, besides a haversack, canteen, cartridge-box with 40 rounds of ammunition, and three days' rations in the haversack.—Finally we camped on a nice open field, and proceeded to put up tents and get supper. We are now fairly established in camp, and are getting on finely. Plenty of good plain food, and not much to do. I will give you our daily routine: Reveille beats at day-break, when we all fall into line, have the roll called, and drill for about an hour. We then take breakfast. I forgot to say that before breakfast we march off in squads to the river, to wash. After breakfast we arrange our tents, and clean up generally.—At 9 o'clock A. M. we have full dress parade and guard-mounting. From that until 5 P. M. we have for cleaning guns, washing clothes, writing letters, &c. At 5 P. M. we have evening parade and roll-call. At 10 P. M. tattoo beats and all retire. It is difficult for us to get beyond the limits of the camp, as the Colonel refuses to give passes. He considers that it is not safe for the men to go into the city. This letter is written in my tent which is about 8 feet long by 8 feet wide. There are seven of us in the tent, and we are fixed very comfortably. I am stretched on the ground writing, on a box-lid or rather a piece of board, having one end resting on my knapsack. We sleep on our arms at night, having our belts strapped on and ready to turn out at a moment's warning. Altogether it is a pleasant life, full of hardships and dangers, but yet I like it. I see by the Baltimore papers which have just now arrived, that the Ohio and Massachusetts troops have gone back to the Relay House, and that we will occupy Federal Hill, which they have just left. Our provisions are plenty but plain—bread, crackers, salt pork and beef, beans, and coffee; no vegetables yet, but I suppose we will have potatoes before long. Our officers and all rough it alike. Col. Lyle comes slipping along, sitting down with the men when at meals, and examining their food to see if it is as it should be. We were sitting in front of our tent last evening, eating our bread and beef, and drinking our coffee, when he appeared, sat down, and tasted the quality of our coffee. He pronounced it good, and passed on.

* * * * * * * *

P. S.—Before sending this off I will add a few more lines:—The Philadelphia papers state that we were received with cheering, &c. Now, that is not the case.—There was no demonstration of any kind, except in one instance, when two or three drunken fellows gave three cheers for something, I cannot tell what. Our camp is in the enemies' country, and we are looked on as such. I have no confidence in the patriotism of the city. Gentlemen from that place have advised Col. Lyle not to allow the men to go into the city, as threats had been made against them. The Secessionists are as two to one in the city.

Your affectionate Son,
JOS. R. FINDLEY.

CAMP SCOTT, York, Pa.,
May 20th, 1861.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Having a few leisure moments at my disposal, and an opportunity of employing them in private, I have thought it proper to advise your readers in reference to our doings in this place. In my former letter to you, I expected it would have been my last from this place. But here we are yet, with no better prospect of going than a week ago. However, rumor is becoming quite rife, and with apparent truthfulness, too, that we will not be here long—perhaps not longer than this week. The 1st Regiment left here last Tuesday evening, to be stationed along the line of the North Central Railroad, and the 2d is now awaiting orders to move in the same direction. Should they leave in a day or so, the probability is we will move towards the latter end of this week.—We have not yet received our knapsacks and canteens, and it is not likely we shall leave until we are fully equipped.

While I write, religious service is being held on the ground, largely attended by the soldiers, who engage in the exercises with very apparent interest. Our soldiers here, taken in a collective sense, are morally inclined, yet there are a number of very wicked and quite desperate characters among us. Two specimens of this latter class were recently courtmartialed for stabbing and shooting each other. The facts in the case, as far as I can learn, are these:—A few days ago a member of Company I, 15th Regiment, was brought into camp by the guard, and in the course of the journey some insolent language was used toward the guard, when he struck him on the head, severely cutting him. An altercation took place shortly afterward, in which the man previously arrested was shot in the head. He then went stealthily into the man's quarters while he was asleep, and severely stabbed him. The one who shot was sentenced to two months' double duty, and when off duty to be ironed. The other was this morning marched round the camp, with his hands tied behind him, and guards at each side and in the rear, with bayonets charged, and the band playing the "Rogue's March." After perambulating around the camp, as a terror to all unruly soldiers, he was marched about a mile from the camp and let loose.

Our company are doing admirably in drilling. We seem to improve each day, contrary to the opinion of a certain correspondent in the Harrisburg Telegraph. I notice in that paper a communication signed "R. S. B.," and dated "Camp Scott, May 14," in which the writer charges the officers of the 3d Regiment with incapacity. He says some of them "never had a musket in their hands," and presumes to dictate to Uncle Sam as to who should command our volunteers, particularly those of the companies. Perhaps the gentleman has "an axe to grind;" or, in other words, no doubt he imagines himself "born to command;" and, as no person has yet appreciated his superior(?) talents in that direction, he perhaps thinks it befitting that he should "blow his own horn." So far as I am capable of judging, the 2d and 3d Regiments do remarkably well—both officers and men—the officers, without an exception, being men of experience, and, should occasion require, will all give a good account of themselves, as representatives of patriotic Little Blair.

Our boys are all enjoying their usual good health. So excellent is the health of our Regiment, and Company H in particular, that it has acquired the reputation of being the healthiest Regiment on the ground, out of about six or seven thousand men.

Yesterday a portion of the 12th and 13th Regiments took it upon themselves to pass the guard and go to town, but Captain A. M. Lloyd, who was Captain of the Guard, promptly followed them with a small detachment of men, and brought every man of them into camp.

But, gentlemen, I have already written more than I had at first intended, and will close by sending you the respect of all our boys, and particularly

Your Ob't Serv't, W. I. B.

CAMP SCOTT, York, Pa.,
May 19th, 1861.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Col. Samuel Yohe, of the 1st Reg., arrived last night, from his station along the Northern Central Rail Road. Upon his arrival at the borders he was treated with the greatest cordiality. The aristocracy of Maryland crowded around him and would not be satisfied until he had partaken of the best their tables could afford and pleasant rooms for quarters. Special invitations pour in, from the best families, for him and his soldiers to dine. The band of the 1st Regiment had serenaded two young ladies as a reward for their kindness and hospitality. Further up stream, toward the Pennsylvania line, they have a grand cotillion every afternoon, the girls flock in and "trip the light fantastic toe" with the soldier boys. The streams along the line supply the troops with the choicest fish, and turtle soup in plenty. The unanimous feeling in Baltimore county is for the Union. The Colonel remarked that men, women and children gathered around him and uttered thanks to God that Pennsylvania's sons had come to protect their homes, their lives and property. But one sentiment prevails there and that is loyalty to the Government, the preservation of our country's flag, and a determination to cling to the Union at all hazards.

It is quite evident now that we would have been attacked at Cockeysville, by a lawless mob, had it not been for the wisdom and prudence of our officers. We would undoubtedly have routed them, but a collision at that time would have had a bad influence on the Union men in Maryland. The manly and gentlemanly conduct of our soldiers while there, has since won many of the secession leaders into our ranks. Many of them are raising companies to fight in protection of the stars and stripes.

All will remember the man who was buried on Cockey's Hill. Rough stones, at the head and foot of his grave, alone marked the last resting place of him who fell, away from home, away from friends, in what was then considered an enemies country. But since then, a neat slab marks his grave, and flowers already bloom in profusion over it, nurtured by the slaves who talk of "de dear sejer."

Such manifestations of loyalty, in a place which was considered the "Paris" of the rebellion, is enough to urge us on to the protection of the Union men of North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and the balance of the seceded States.

The weather has at last cleared up, with the prospect of remaining favorable for some time. Our camp is very well located, with one exception—it is too low. The many heavy rains have made some of the quarters quite damp.

All express an anxiety to get into a fight with the rebels, when we will prove, ourselves, to a man, worthy of the cause we espouse.

The troops are mostly out at church, this morning, and all are anxious to keep the Sabbath day holy.

We are now pretty well uniformed and equipped, and will doubtless leave for the South this week.

BEN. BOLT.

Contraband of War.

The following definitions from Bouvier's Law Dictionary will be found useful to many of our readers:

CONTRABAND, (Marine Law.)—Its most extensive sense means all commerce which is carried on contrary to the laws of the State. The term is also used to designate all kinds of merchandize which is used, or transported, against the interdictions published by a ban or solemn cry.

2. The term is usually applied to that unlawful commerce which is so carried on in time of war. Commodities particularly useful in war are contraband, as arms, ammunition, horses, timber for ship building, and every kind of naval stores. When articles come into use as implements of war, which were before innocent, they may be declared to be contraband. The greatest difficulty to decide what is contraband, seems to have occurred in the case of provisions, which have not been held to be universally contraband, though Vattel admits that they become so on certain occasions, when there is an expectation of reducing an enemy by famine.

3. In modern times, one of the principal criteria adopted by the courts for the decision of the question whether any particular cargo of provisions be confiscable as contraband, is to examine whether those provisions be in a rude or manufactured state, for articles in such examinations are treated with greater indulgence in their natural condition than when wrought up for the convenience of the enemy's immediate use. Iron unwrought is, therefore, treated with indulgence, though anchors and other instruments fabricated out of it are directly contraband.

4. Contraband of war is the act by which, in times of war, a neutral vessel introduces, or attempts to introduce, into the territory of one of the belligerent parties, arms, ammunition, or other effects intended for, or which may serve, hostile operations.

PENNSYLVANIA.—No State has more nobly responded in men and money to the call of the Government than the noble old Keystone State. The troops which she has already equipped and furnished, and those which she proposes to equip will fall little short of fifty thousand.—Most of these troops are the very best fighting material of the State. The people of Pennsylvania are both a military and patriotic people, and will acquit themselves on the field with distinguished honor. We doubt whether any State in the Union will furnish more or better soldiers for this war than the "Old Keystone State."—Chicago Times.

A COMET VISIBLE.—The Comet just discovered by M. Thacher is said to be now plainly visible to the naked eye. Star-gazers will find it in the quadrangle of the "Dipper" in Ursa Major—a hazy star near the brightest of the four. It exhibits a tail three degrees long, in the telescope. It moves rapidly from the north-west, and in a few days will be conspicuous as a flaming sword from the north advancing into the southwestern skies. Is it an omen?

Public Meeting.

The undersigned, citizens of Altoona, being desirous of having a Classical, Mathematical and Military School for young men and boys, located in an eligible position in their midst, have deemed it prudent to make this announcement of a Public Meeting, to be held in LOGAN HALL on Saturday, the 25th inst, at 7 o'clock P. M, to take into consideration the best method of accomplishing that object. Now that the exigencies of the times demand a military education for our youth, it would be a great desideratum to have such an institution located in our midst. Addresses upon the subject of the meeting will be delivered. The public are invited and urged to attend.

Geo. W. Patton,	Wm. Boyden,
Jas. S. Mann,	R. W. Oliver,
Louis W. Hall,	A. B. Clark,
D. J. Neff,	Wm. R. Findley,
G. W. Kessler,	Clem't Jaggard,
W. H. Wilson,	John Wood,
Geo. B. Cramer,	J. T. Christy.
E. B. McCrum,

From the above it will be seen that an effort is about to be made to establish in this place a first-class academy, with which will be associated a military school. That such an institution is demanded in this section of the country, all will admit—that this is the proper time to agitate the question, and Altoona the proper location for such a school, appears evident to us. It is intended to establish a school in which the pupil will obtain a thorough academical education in all the English branches, mathematics and the languages, together with perfect military discipline as now taught at West Point and other national military schools. Should such a school be established here, our citizens would be enabled to educate their children without the expense of sending them abroad, and they would also obtain in it a military education, the importance of which is now apparent, but which they would not receive in other academies. Altoona, in point of location, means of access, and healthfulness of climate, seems to be the proper place for such a school, and we hope our citizens will evince their interest in the matter by turning out to the meeting on Saturday evening, when they will be more fully instructed in reference to the institution.

COL. ANDERSON AT ALTOONA.—On Wednesday evening last, the gallant Col. (late Major) Anderson, the hero of Fort Sumter, passed through this place on the East Line, on his way to Kentucky, his native State, to take charge of the United States troops now being mustered in that State. Long previous to the hour for the arrival of the train our citizens began to flock to the depot, and by the time the train arrived, between one thousand and two thousand persons had collected. So dense was the crowd that it was deemed advisable to call out a guard to keep a passage-way open from the cars to the dining-room in the Logan House. A detachment from Company B, Capt. Turner, marched to the depot, and succeeded in opening a passage-way, but it was with difficulty they could keep it open, so heavily did the spectators press upon them. Van Tries' Cornet Band, of Hollidaysburg, and the Altoona Brass Band were on the ground, and enlivened the occasion by discoursing excellent music. When the train arrived, the jam was tremendous—every person trying to look over the head of his neighbor to get a sight of the illustrious hero. He succeeded in getting into the dining-room without much difficulty. While he sat at table those who were fortunate enough to get a window had a fair glimpse of him. He is a small man, not medium height, hair lightly tinged with gray, and a pleasant, but determined, countenance. When he stepped upon the cars, and again when he stepped upon them, the crowd gave cheer after cheer, and a swivel in the vicinity of the way-scales made the hills and dales re-echo at each explosion. The Colonel stood upon the rear platform of the car and bowed politely to the crowd as the train moved off.

BURGESS' PROCLAMATION.—In another column will be found the Proclamation recently issued by the Chief Burgess of this place, from which it will be learned that the night patrol furnished by the "Home Guard" have been constituted a "special police," with full powers to make arrests of all disorderly or suspicious characters. The law conferring this authority is very explicit and rather severe, and it would be well for those who have set the authority of the Guard at defiance, and taken opportunities to interfere with and insult them, to read the law ere they again attempt anything of the kind. We are sorry that there are any persons in our town who would be guilty of insulting and interfering with men who, without compensation, volunteer to act as night watches, in order that our citizens may sleep more securely. All good citizens desire this guard and will respect it. The guard does not interfere with the rights and liberties of any citizen. All that is required by a guard, when he hails a person, is for that person to give his name, when, if he is known to be a citizen of the town, he passes on unmolested. Certainly it is a very small matter for a man to give his name, when he is caught out after ten o'clock at night. If a citizen of the town be observed lurking around in a suspicious manner, he has no more right to go unchallenged than a stranger, and the Guard will keep an eye on him. We hope we shall hear of no more difficulty growing out of this matter.

☞ Parents and guardians are hereby informed that A. Clabaugh, at the corner of Main and Annie streets, has now on hand a full stock of all the school-books used in the public schools in this place and vicinity. Also, a general assortment of military paper, envelopes, pens, pencils, toilet and shaving soaps, perfumery, confectionaries, nuts, fruit, tobacco and segars, to all of which he invites the attention of the public. He also receives a large supply of daily papers, together with a number of the popular weeklies.

☞ The boys have been making a nice thing of it, during the last three days, catching stray hogs about town, and chucking them into the town pound. When once in the pound, it requires the sum of 25 cents to be paid down in cash, ere their owners can get them out. This brings upon the head of Constable Ely any amount of curses, but they, like entreaties, avail not, and the owner must shell out the tin ere Joe will open the pound. The consequence has been that our streets are now rid of swine, as they should be.

ATTENTION! LADIES!—We neglected, last week, to note that Miss Jennie Scott, the fashionable milliner up street, has associated with her Miss Lizzie Sneath, who enjoys a wide reputation as one of the best mantaumakers in the country; consequently the Misses S. are now prepared to trim out the ladies in the best and most fashionable style. They have just received a full stock of Spring and Summer bonnets, trimmings &c., and as the season for donning such fixings is now with us, ladies should call at once.

H. FETTINGER, of No. 1 Literary Emporium, begs leave to announce to the citizens of Altoona and vicinity, that he has now, and will constantly keep, a full supply of all the School-Books used in this and adjoining districts, which will be sold at from ten to twenty five per cent. less than they can be bought anywhere else in the county. Everything used in the Schools—such as Slates, Pencils, Pens, Inks, Copy-Books, Charts, Cards, Rewards of Merit, &c., &c., can always be had at his place of business. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

REDUCTION OF TAXES.—At a recent meeting of the School-Board of the Borough, it was decided to reduce the school tax from eight to five mills. To this reduction we presume our people will find no objection. It is the opinion of the Board, that with proper economy, the five mill tax will yield a revenue sufficient to keep the schools open nine months in the year. The schools will open and close at the same time in the year, and one month's vacation will be given during the holidays.

☞ The laying of the corner-stone for the extention to the Catholic Church in this place, which took place on Tuesday afternoon of last week, was an interesting occasion. The attendance was very large, and the services were conducted in a solemn manner by the Bishop.—From the specifications we judge that the addition to the church will be an ornament to that part of the town. The new part is to be built of brick.

FANCY GOODS.—R. A. O. Kerr has just received a beautiful assortment of ladies' fancy dress goods, direct from New York city, which he is selling at the most reasonable prices.—Besides being beautiful and cheap, they are the most fashionable goods in the market. Call and examine them, ladies.

PROCLAMATION OF THE CHIEF BURGESS.

WHEREAS, the "Home Guard," organized for the better protection of persons and property in the Borough of Altoona, have been deputed by the Burgess as his Special Police, to aid in preserving the peace, &c., in said Borough,

NOW I, JOHN ALLISON, Chief Burgess of the Borough of Altoona, do make and publish the following Proclamation, to wit: That all persons shall recognize said "Home Guard" when on duty, as my legally constituted "Aids," and treat them with that civility, as well as obedience, which their position demands. All persons refusing to obey said Guard, in the legal discharge of their duty, and thereby creating any breach or disturbance of the peace, will be arrested by the Guard, brought before the Burgess, and, on conviction, be fined Ten Dollars and be imprisoned in the "Lock-Up," in accordance with Section 3 of Ordinance No. 13, entitled "An Ordinance for the better regulation of the peace and order of the Borough of Altoona," and will also be bound over, or be imprisoned in the County Jail, to answer said offence at the Court of Quarter Sessions.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal, this 15th day of May, A. D. 1861. JOHN ALLISON, Chief Burgess. (SEAL)

PEN AND SCISSORS.

☞ The Southerners say that they will burn every city and village that they are compelled to vacate.

☞ The city of Chicago has contributed three and a half millions of dollars for the war.

☞ Colonel Ellsworth, of the New York Zouaves, has had a present of a $1,000 horse, from Saratoga, New York.

☞ George Copway, the Indian Orator, has enlisted two hundred and fifty Chippeway Indians to go to Washington, and participate in the war against the South.

☞ A company from Chillicothe, that could not be mustered into service, has offered the Government a bonus of $4,500 for the privilege of serving during the war.

☞ Andy Johnston is still speaking for the Union in Western Tennessee. We need not say that Andy is an unequivocal Union man.

☞ Breadstuffs and provisions in Savannah are pretty well up in price. Flour is selling for $10.00 a barrel; corn $1.20 per bushel; bacon, 15 cents per pound. No ham in the market.

☞ A Kentucky correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette says that 50,000 percussion Minie rifle caps passed over the Kentucky Central road the other day, for the Rebel army, marked "garden seeds."

☞ An extract from a letter, from a lady of Maysville, Ky., to her friend in Frankfort, Ky., dated May 5, says:—"Our town was decorated with many Union flags yesterday. Every one here seems to be for Union."

☞ An official statement of the Charleston Courier shows that only 397 of the 1st Regiment of South Carolina Volunteers would go North to fight, while 604 remained at home.

☞ The name of Francis Meagher has been unanimously stricken from the roll of honorary members of the Hibernia Society of Charleston, because of his active services in behalf of Northern troops.

☞ The New York Times, of the 15th inst., says:—The Cunard steamship Africa, now lying at the dock in Jersey City, is being unloaded of about 10,000 Enfield Rifles consigned to the U. S. Government.

☞ Governor Sprague, of Rhode Island, has sent home an officer of his staff with orders to enlist a second regiment of infantry and another battery of light artillery, for three years' service.

☞ Gov. Pickens says, "If Virginia joins the Southern Confederacy he will consider her a part of his country." Generous Pickens! Happy Virginia! The "Old Dominion" patronized and protected by South Carolina, must feel proud.

☞ A Vicksburg (Miss.) paper publishes the following: "NOTICE TO THE WORLD.—Every volunteer from this State and Louisiana is a gentleman. He must be treated as such. No deck passage, no hard commons for him, if it can be avoided.

☞ The Buffalo Home and Escort Guard, commanded by ex-President Fillmore, has in its ranks four ex-Generals of militia, sixteen ex-Colonels, thirty-three ex-Majors, sixty ex-Captains, fifty ex-Lieutenants, and thirty-five honorary members.

☞ A Cincinnati brewer was telegraphed to from Memphis, Tenn., for three hundred kegs of lager; to which he replied, "Nary Drop!"—proving that though we may be willing to bring secession to its bier, we are not so willing to send beer to secession.

☞ The witty Mr. Sparrowgrass recently joined the Home Guard, at Yonkers, New York, and said in a speech that "it is understood that the Home Guard is not to go to the wars, and not to leave Yonkers, except in case of invasion."

☞ Over five hundred of the Confederate troops left Richmond on Saturday, on the Central Railroad, for secret service. The Richmond Dispatch says they all looked capable of chewing up the Northerners in the proportion of five to one." They must be astonishing fellows.

☞ Somebody, says Prentice, sends us an anonymous letter from Tennessee, threatening to assassinate us for what we have said of John Bell. We hope he won't. We want the use of the whole remnant of our three-score and ten to repent properly of our vote for Bell last August.

☞ The Maysville Eagle says that last Saturday men went to the polls there and gave a vote for their country, who had taken no interest in parties and politics for more than twenty years. One gentleman remarked that there was not so great a unanimity for even the Christian religion as for the Union.

☞ The Richmond Examiner advises the Secessionists to let Washington go, and direct their attention to Cincinnati, which it declares the most valuable on the borders. By occupying the Kentucky hills opposite Cincinnati, the Examiner says the city could be laid in ashes. It advises the Southern troops to form their plans secretly, and improve the rich opportunity.

☞ The Detroit Tribune of Thursday afternoon says:—"It is estimated that between yesterday noon and to-night, embracing say thirty-two hours, some one hundred and fifty grain laden vessels will have passed this port from Lake Michigan, with an aggregate of over two millions of bushels of grain. This is unprecedented." [Plenty of provisions this side of Mason & Dixon.]

☞ The Memphis (Tenn.) Avalanche says that one of the Cairo soldiers was seized at Columbus on Friday. He was carefully searched, but no papers of consequence found on his person. He confessed, however, that he was from Cairo, was a soldier, and sent by his commanding officer. The last seen of him he was tied with a rope by the neck to a black jack, his feet an inconvenient distance from the ground.

☞ The Government would fain see all three months' men changed into volunteers for the duration of the war. It is satisfied that the call for three months' service is more likely to impede than to benefit the intended operations for the suppression of the rebellion. Three fifths of the Northern troops enlisted for three months, now at Washington, are, however, ready to re-enlist for the war.

☞ Successful wars are usually decided on a given point and in a single day. It is the greatest error to suppose a campaign extends to every village in a State, and is conced at Austerlitz and Friedland by troops that had never seen her soil; Napoleon was hurled from his throne at Waterloo; Austria was humbled at Solferino, and the victory of Wolfe at Quebec won Canada for England. In the Crimea, the legions of Nicholas were exhausted at Sevastopol."

☞ We are pleased, says the Richmond Dispatch, to know that steps are being taken to organize a company of Mounted Rangers, to be composed of returned Californians and Texas Rangers, resident in this city and surrounding country. The troop is intended, after being received into service, to be self sustaining. Each man is to be capable of doing any amount of hard work when occasion shall demand it. The main object is to harrass, weary down, and kill off as many of the enemy as possible. To accomplish this purpose the parties will adopt the guerrilla style of warfare.

☞ The Southern papers contain some intelligence which, if not quite so transparent, might be of importance. From one section we learn that "the small pox is thinning out the troops in Fort McHenry at a fearful rate." From another, that "the cholera has entered the garrison at Fortress Monroe and is doing its work." And from the third, that "the yellow fever in Fort Pickens is slowly but surely putting into the hands of General Bragg an easy victory." From this it would appear that the Confederates have perfect command over all the pestilential diseases, and can throw them wherever they feel inclined.

SECESSION OF KENTUCKY.—The Louisville Democrat says: "The New Orleans True Delta is delighted with the prospect that Kentucky is going to join the Southern Confederacy, and the reason is, it secures Louisiana from any danger at home. He is much mistaken about Kentucky. She has never been less disposed to join the Southern Confederacy than she is to-day. She condemned the Disunion movement at the start, and every day confirms her in the justice of her orignal verdict on the subject. Louisiana has made war, and can have the honor of fighting all to herself."

HAT & CAP EMPORIUM,
JESSE SMITH, Proprietor.
ALL THE LATEST STYLES OF HATS and CAPS constantly on hand. It is the determination of the proprietor of this Emporium to keep up with the times and fashions, and to do this he spares no expense. He has just received his supply of SPRING AND SUMMER HATS AND CAPS,
among which will be found styles and qualities to suit the tastes of old or young, plain or fashionable.

To give the names, colors, qualities and styles of all his goods in this line, would only confuse the reader, and he would not then understand or appreciate the diversity and magnitude of his stock. It must be seen to be believed.—Go and see Jesse if you want to see a live hatter and a fashionable stock.
He has also a fine assortment of CHILDREN'S HATS and FLATS, to which he invites the attention of solicitous mothers. At his store they will find something which will excel all their neighbors in the way of fashion and beauty. Go, mothers, and examine and select from Jesse Smith's stock.

HAIR INVIGORATOR!!

AN EFFECTIVE, SAFE AND ECONOMICAL COMPOUND.

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR to its original color without dyeing, and preventing the hair from turning gray.

FOR PREVENTING BALDNESS, and curing it, when there is the least particle of vitality or recuperative energy remaining.

FOR REMOVING SCURF AND DANDRUFF, and all cutaneous affections on the Scalp.

FOR BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR, imparting to it an unequalled gloss and brilliancy, making it soft and silky in its texture and causing it to curl readily.

The great celebrity and the increasing demand for this unequalled preparation, convince the proprietor that one trial is only necessary to satisfy a discerning public of its superior qualities over any other preparation at present in use. It cleanses the head and scalp from dandruff and other cutaneous diseases, causes the hair to grow luxuriently, and gives it a rich, soft, glossy flexible appearance, and also where the hair is loosening and thining, it will give strength and vigor to the roots, and restore the growth to those parts which have become bald, causing it to yield a fresh covering of hair.

There are hundreds of ladies and gentlemen in New York who have had their hair restored by the use of this Invigorator, when all other preparations had failed. L. M. has in his possession letters innumerable testifying to the above facts, from persons of the highest respectability. It will effectually prevent the hair from turning gray until the latest period of life; and in cases where the hair has already changed its color, the use of the Invigorator will, with certainty restore it to its original hue, giving it a dark & glossy appearance. As a perfume for the toilet and a Hair Restorative it is particularly recommended, having an agreeable fragrance; and the great facilities it affords in dressing the hair, which, when moist with the Invigorator can be dressed in any required form so as to preserve its place, whether plain or in curls—hence the great demand for it by the ladies as a standard toilet article which none ought to be without, as the price places it within the reach of all, being, per bottle, to be had at all respectable druggists and perfumers.

L. MILLER would call the attention of Parents and Guardians to the use of the Invigorator, in cases where the childrens' Hair inclines to be weak. The use of it lays the foundation for a good head of hair, as it removes any impurities that may have become connected with the scalp, the removal of which is necessary both for the health of the child, and the future appearance of its Hair.

CAUTION.—None genuine without the fac simile LOUIS MILLER being on the outer wrapper; also, L. MILLER'S HAIR INVIGORATOR, N. Y. blown in the glass.

Wholesale Depot, 56 Dey St., and sold by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the world.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity.

I also desire to present to the American Public my

New and Improved Instantaneous

LIQUID HAIR DYE

which after years of scientific experimenting I have brought to perfection. It dyes Black or Brown instantly without injury to the Hair or Skin, warranted the best article of the kind in existence.

LABOR-SAVING

WASHING MACHINE.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVING purchased the right for Blair county, of

are now manufacturing them at Altoona, and intend to supply them to those persons throughout the county who desire a LABOR-SAVING MACHINE.

This Washing Machine is got up on an entirely new principle, and is considered, by those who have seen it in use, the best that has ever been brought before the public.

Among the many advantages of this machine over all others may be mentioned the following:

1st. Its simplicity of construction, making it almost impossible to get out of order.

2d. Its speed, which astonishes alike the operator and the looker on.

3rd. The facility with which it adapts itself to the bulk or quality of clothes desired to be washed.

4th. It washes equally well the finest and lightest fabric or the coarsest and heaviest, such as bed-quilts, comforts, blankets, &c.

McMINN & DERN,
Altoona, Blair County, Pa.

We the undersigned, hereby certify that we are now using Tolhurst's Improved Washing Machine and are fully satisfied that it is a very excellent article of the kind; combining as it does great speed with little labor, and performing its work in the most satisfactory manner. We therefore cheerfully recommend it to all who desire a real labor-saving washing machine.

MOFFAT'S,

LIFE PILLS and PHŒNIX BITTERS.

THESE MEDICINE HAVES NOW been before the public for a period of thirty years, and during that time have maintained a high character in almost every part of the globe, for their extraordinary and immediate power of restoring perfect health to persons suffering under nearly every kind of disease to which the human frame is liable.

The following are among the distressing variety of human diseases in which the VEGETABLE LIFE MEDICINES are well known to be infallible.

DYSPEPSIA, by thoroughly cleansing the first and second stomachs, and creating a flow of pure, healthy bile, instead of the stale and acrid kind; FLATULENCY, Loss or Appetite, Heartburn, Headaches, Restlessness, Ill Temper, Anxiety, Languor, and Melancholy, which are the general symptoms of Dyspepsia, will vanish, as a natural consequence of its cure.

COSTIVENESS, by cleansing the whole length of the intestines with a solvent process, and without violence; all violent purges leave the bowels costive within two days.

FEVERS of all kinds, by restoring the blood to a regular circulation, through the process of respiration in such cases, and the thorough solution of all intestinal obstruction in others.

The Life Medicines have been known to cure RHEUMATISM permanently in three weeks, and GOUT in half that time, by removing local inflammation from the muscles and ligaments of the joints.

DROPSIES of all kinds, by freeing and strengthening the kidneys and bladder; they operate most delightfully on these important organs, and hence have ever been found a certain remedy for the worst cases of GRAVEL.

Also WORMS by dislodging from the turnings of the bowels the slimy matter to which these creatures adhere.

SCURVY, ULCERS, and INVETERATE SORES, by the perfect purity which these LIFE MEDICINES give to the blood, and all the humors.

SCORBUTIC ERUPTIONS and BAD COMPLEXIONS, by their alterative effect upon the fluids that feed the skin, and the morbid state of which occasions all eruptive complaints, sallow, cloudy, and other disagreeable complexions.

The use of these Pills for a very short time will effect an entire cure of SALT RHEUM, and a striking improvement in the clearness of the skin. COMMON COLDS and INFLUENZA will always be cured by one dose, or by two in the worst cases.

PILES.—The original proprietor of these medicines was cured of Piles, of 30 years standing, by the use of the Life Medicines alone.

FEVER & AGUE.—For this scourge of the Western country, these medicines will be found a safe, speedy and certain remedy. Other medicines leave the system subject to a return of the disease—a cure by these medicines is permanent—try them, be satisfied, and be cured.

BILLIOUS FEVERS and LIVER COMPLAINTS.—General debility, loss of appetite and diseases of females—the medicines have been used with the most beneficial results in cases of this description. Bad Blood and Scrofula, in its worst forms, yields to the mild, yet powerful action of these remarkable Medicines. Night Sweats, Nervous Debility, Nervous Complaints of all kinds, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, are speedily cured.

MERCURIAL DISEASES.—Persons whose constitutions have become impaired by the injudicious use of Mercury, will find these medicines a perfect cure, as they never fail to eradicate from the system all the effects of Mercury, infinitely sooner than the most powerful preparation of Sarsaparilla.

Prepared and sold by W. B. MOFFAT,

GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN COOKING STOVES.

CONSUMPTION OF SMOKE AND GAS AND SAVING OF FUEL.

The subscriber takes pleasure in offering to the public NEW GAS AND SMOKE CONSUMING Cooking Stove, recently patented, which is destined to supercede all others, as it requires than other stoves and is more easily, quickly and regularly heated. No unpleasant smell of gas arises from this stove from the fact that it is all consumed ere it can escape. HOSTETTER'S

STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors and manufacturers of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United States, because the article has attained a reputation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of bare assertion or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for the last year amounted to over a half-million bottles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the preparation, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom.

This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of trumpeting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever and ague and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and rejuvenating generally. We have the evidence of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from stomach derangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so harassing that many of them sink under the trial. The relation of mother and child is so absorbingly tender, that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Should the period of maternity arrive during the summer season, the wear of body and mind is generally aggravated. Here, then, is a necessity for a stimulant to recuperate the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers generally prefer the Bitters to all other invigorators that receive the endorsement of physicians, because it is agreeable to the taste as well as certain to give a permanent increase of bodily strength.

All those persons to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhœa, dysentery, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, supernaturated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing mothers, will consult their own physical welfare by giving to Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters a trial.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

☞ Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, South America, and Germany.
